Dear Ms. Baker:

Thank you very much for giving me such a warm and cordial letter. Although we have only met once, you are the most impressive lady having an intellectual humility whom I have ever met in the U.S.

If I were able to stay in the U.S. a few more years, I would be very happy to have the time to talk and discuss with you about various matters of each culture.

However, time flies like an arrow as the proverb says, I regret that I have to bid farewell to you without having such a time.

But through the frequent communication and association between both countries, I am confident that the relations will become closer and deeper every year.

I would be very pleased if you would contact me when you have the opportunity to be in Osaka, Japan.

This is my address and telephone number in Japan:

Japan

Wishing you and your family good health and prosperity in the future.

Sincerely,

Toshihiko Kuroda
